

Cycle Management Training

8-week Seminar

at 5912 Oak Street, Vancouver, BC
Tuesdays, September 21 to November 9, 2010
7:30 pm to 9:30 pm

This remarkable study of time management and of fulfilment of one's potential through time gave me confidence on how to create a successful life by following nature's laws. ~ KD

Cycle Management Training teaches you step by step how you can apply the cycles of time to fulfil your ideals and goals, knowing with complete confidence and assurance that success will be the natural result of your efforts. Cycles are understood by applying mathematics to time to reveal the natural steps of growth, the quality or nature of the time period under consideration, and the progression of effort that is required to bring about fulfilment. Success is your heritage.

You will learn the timing to understand and create the next steps for growth in your personal, family, and business life. There is a natural time for every purpose.

Cycle patterns are evident in nature--day and night cycles, the changing seasons, the moon phases, the earth's rotation around the sun, and the bull and bear markets in business to name a few.

Everything starts from a seed or beginning and follows a natural growth pattern to fruition or completion. Knowing your personal cycle will reveal the steps of progress you can apply to bring about your success.

You will learn:

- ◆ what a cycle is and why your thoughts and experiences fluctuate from day to day
- ◆ how to calculate your cycles and understand the quality of time expressing
- ◆ how to maximize your daily efforts through an understanding of cycle years, days, and hours
- ◆ how to use time more effectively in your personal life and business efforts
- ◆ how to work with others by using cycle to create the best outcome to everyone

Course includes: personal instruction, video presentations, interaction with instructors and representatives. Your study materials include a course binder, lesson material, workbook, and set of CDs.
